

Grayling Voters Favor Incorporation

Home Rule Proposal Passes 246 to 101

ALL VILLAGE OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

In the election held Monday the voters of the village of Grayling approved the incorporation of Grayling as a fifth class city. The vote stood 246 in favor of incorporation and 101 votes opposed. There were two blank ballots cast, making the total number of voters 349.

Charter Commission Elected.

From the list of 14 names appearing on the ballot for charter commissioners, the nine having the largest number of votes and were elected are as follows:

A. L. Roberts, R. O. Milnes, Alfred Hanson, A. J. Joseph, T. P. Peterson, O. P. Schumann, C. R. Keyport, Merle F. Nellist, Emil Giegling.

Alfred Hanson led in the number of votes received with 264 to his credit, and Dr. Keyport was next with 253.

All candidates for village officers were incumbents and all were reelected, as follows:

President—Dr. C. G. Clippert.
Clerk—Lorane Sparks.
Treasurer—Herbert J. Gothro.
Assessor—Frank A. Barnett.
Trustees—Jesse E. Schoonover, Merle F. Nellist, Nelson O. Corwin.

The trustees whose term of office did not expire at this time are Roy O. Milnes, Arnold Burrows and Al Roberts, who, together with those elected Monday make up the village council.

Since the village will soon become a fifth class or home rule city, this council will necessarily be dissolved.

Much For Commissioners To Do.

The newly elected members of the charter commission will now have to take up their responsibilities and draw up a city charter in accordance with the privileges accorded a fifth class city. Plans are in the making for a convocation of the charter commissioners at once and it seems to be the prevailing opinion that after the charter has been drawn up that a few weeks recess be taken in order to give the members time to think over the laws and provisions that have been tentatively agreed upon in order to assure themselves that they are correct and for the best interests of Grayling.

Notice To Car Owners

After March 15, 1935, all cars used on the public roads must have 1935 license plates on. Any person driving on the public roads without proper license plates will be prosecuted.

Frank Bennett, Sheriff.

CRAWFORD COUNTY GETS

$350.00

State aid for the public schools of Crawford County, in the amount of $350 has been mailed recently to the county treasurer, according to an announcement of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. The total amount of the recent release to 77 counties is $1,643,000.

The distribution represents advances on the 1934-35 Thatcher-Sias appropriation. While the total allocation is computed on the basis of $15,000,000, it is estimated that only two-thirds of this sum will be available from retail sales and liquor tax revenues by the close of the fiscal year. A total income of $10,000,000 will make it possible to give each district two-thirds of its allocation. Districts able to finance their school programs for the current year will be given their aid later in the summer.

Beer Garden Now Keg-O'-Nails

Mrs. Laura Sammons Welch is the smart person to select a new name for Spike's Beer garden. Her offering was "Keg-O'-Nails." In her letter to Spike she said: "How about this for your new eat house—'Keg-O'-Nails.' Thus your slogan would be 'Visit Spike's Keg-O'-Nails.' I think it is quite appropriate and decidedly different."

The idea struck Spike OK and Mrs. Welch got the $5 that was offered.

LOVELLS SCHOOL FIRST IN SELLING SEALS

For selling the largest number of tuberculosis Christmas Seals per capita in their county, students of Lovells school will receive the highest school award given in the sale—the "Award of Merit" plaque—the Michigan Tuberculosis Association announced this week.

The plaque—in the form of a wooden shield, is decorated with a raised double-barred red cross and the words, in green raised letters "Award of Merit—1934."

Miss Margaret Laage is the teacher of the school which raced through its exploration of "Mystery Island" to find the treasure hidden at the bottom of Treasure Cove and come in ahead of all other exploration parties in the county.

Second and third places in the county-wide race to sell the most tuberculosis Christmas Seals per capita went to Woodburn and Eldorado schools. Each school received a copy of the book "Healthland."

The teachers of these two schools are Mrs. Marvin Smith of Grayling and Mrs. Myrtle Papenfus of Eldorado.

Celtics Play Saginaw Teams Mar. 21

NOVEL BASKETBALL GAME SLATED FOR CITY AUD., 8 P. M.

Saginaw, Mich., March 4—Saginaw will have something a little extra for its sport entertainment on Thursday night, 8:00 P. M., March 21st. Something in basketball comparable to Michigan vs. Ohio State in football. Or maybe the Detroit-St. Louis world series in baseball. The Original Celtics in person are headlining a basketball program, the season's grand finale, at the City Auditorium on that night that doubtless will attract the largest cage crowd of all time locally. The Celtics having appeared here last year will not be strangers. But for the first time they will be offered some real tough opposition. Harold J. Huebner, Manager of the Triangle A. C. has selected the best three teams in town to give the Shamrocks their opposition in the Chevrolet Foundry, undefeated so far this year and who have beaten the Flint Chevrolet team twice this year, the Celtics will find a tough and interesting foe. Ames M. E. Seniors, Sunday School League champions for the past five years, and the Wilcox-Rich Flyers will, too, give the veterans plenty of argument. Last year the Celtics positively astounded the spectators with their Houdini-like maneuvers, their slap-pass, side stepping and sundry amazing features. The Celtics put on a show that bewildered the spectators and had them talking about it for days after. This year's team is the same and they have added a number of new plays and tricks to their repertoire. In short, it will be basketball as played by champions. The Celtics will start with Lapchick, 6 foot 5 inch center, and includes Barre, Dehnert and Blanks—Hickey and Herhily and these boys are all too well known to require elaboration on their special capabilities.

High Schools from every section of the state plan to attend and have availed themselves of the special admission offer. Mail orders are being received now at the Auditorium box-office. Admission prices have been cut to a minimum to enable all sport followers to attend.

Legion Jottings

Watch our Drum and Bugle Corps for future parties. You never can tell we might have a minstrel show in the near future.

The Corps had a large turnout at their last practice and meeting and much was accomplished. But two of the "Horrid Drummers" were missing. I wonder why?

We have had several visitors from other Legion Posts at our hall on drill nights and some were so pleased with our organization that they are talking of coming in our Post as members. We are always pleased to have good ex-service men join our ranks.

Our Homecoming committees are reporting back to us that they are having wonderful results from the announcements of the event. One party sent back thirty addresses of old-timers who used to live in our city. Not so bad for a good start and it sure is appreciated.

Well Buddies, how about joining this week? Why put it off? "He who hesitates is lost," so don't have any excuses but come on in and help put across things which the Legion is promoting. Don't you think you should be long or are you one of the kind who want the Legion to get your bonus for you and not be fair and join them? We don't believe you are.

Charged With Beating Wife

WM. FLOETER FOUND GUILTY BY JURY

William Floeter, farmer residing in South Branch township, was in Justice Petersen's court last week, on trial for assault and battery upon his wife on December 29th.

Mrs. Floeter says that her husband struck her and kicked her and that for a week she was unable to leave the house. And that as soon as she was able to get out she entered complaint that led up to the above charge.

The case was tried before a jury and the husband was found guilty. He was required to pay a fine of $25 and court costs.

Witnesses for the People were, besides Mrs. Floeter, Mrs. John McGillis and Mary McMurray, Mrs. Floeter's daughter by a former marriage. And a certificate from her physician was admitted as evidence. It read as follows:

Dr. A. D. Hammond

Roscommon

To Whom it may concern: On examination on above date I found Mrs. William J. Floeter injured as follows: Ruptured right ear drum from slap on ear (subjective symptom), general, body, legs and arm bruised. Chest and back injury to lower four dorsal segments and ribs.

A. D. Hammond.

Mr. Floeter was the principal witness in his own behalf and was supported by his son Harold and young daughter.

Attorney Clarence Smith appeared for the defense and Prosecuting Attorney Nellist for the people.

Pleads Guilty for Game Law Violation.

Mr. Floeter also was in trouble with conservation officers who charged him with having illegal deer in his possession. To that charge he pled guilty and was let off on suspended sentence and payment of costs of $6.85. Also his hunting license was revoked.

THURSDAY, MARCH 14, 1935

THE GO-TO-CHURCH sentiment seems to be on an increase. We wonder at times if the world has gone so far away from the church that special efforts must be made to induce the people to attend its services.

There are few communities in this country where there are no churches. They were built by the people so as to have places for religious worship and for the social needs of the communities. Churches are built because someone has worked and struggled to provide the finances for their construction. Church societies and the citizens of the community work and give to support the churches. Ever since the landing of the first settlers in America there has been here a spirit of religious fervor. Many people came to America to get away from religious persecution and to live in a land where they might be free to worship as they desired. And from these early settlers we descended a long line of fine, Christian citizens.

During the passing centuries people have changed, our modes of living have changed, church architecture is different but the lessons taught by Christ during his few years on earth live on and stand out in bold relief in the world today. All of us realize these truths but we seem to have to be reminded that we owe a duty toward our churches; church attendance is needed to inspire greater church leadership and better Christian community spirit. Our local churches in unison are appealing to the people to go to church during Lent. An especial request asks that we attend some church next Sunday—March 17th. Why not do so? Let's show these fine men that we appreciate the work they are doing in our community by attending their services next Sunday. Following is a schedule of the services offered in the several local churches next Sunday:

Danish Evangelical Lutheran—Worship 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Reverend H. Juhl, Minister.
Free Methodist—Worship 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. Reverend C. E. Stevens, Minister.
St. Mary's—Mass 8:30 a. m. Devotional 7:15 p. m. Reverend Fr. J. L. Culligan, Priest.
Michelson Memorial—Worship 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Reverend E. W. Zoller, Minister.

WHAT IS LIABLE TO BE THE RESULT?

Editor Tom Conlin of the Crystal Falls Diamond Drill asks his readers if they have given any attention to what is liable to be the result of a failure on the part of the President's huge appropriation to bring about the results that he hopes it will bring about. We have just come to the end of one program in which $3,250,000, 000 were spent with the same objective in view: the elimination of unemployment. The result is about a half million more unemployed than when the spending program started. We have no assurance that the program now being considered will result any differently—just hope that it will not and every true American hopes that the end of this program, if adopted, will witness a different finish because America can't stand many more failures of the kind.

SWINDLER NABBED

After a long search, state police finally nabbed Earl Summers, master swindler of the year for this part of the state, in Roscommon, where he carried his clever games a little too far and aroused suspicion.

Summers is wanted in Bay City, Pinconning, West Branch and Grayling, for various crooked activities. At present, he is serving a 60 day sentence in the Roscommon County jail for obtaining money under false pretenses.

When released there he will be turned over to our authorities to face a similar charge.

ROSCOMMON COUNTY CITIZEN DIES

This week marks the passing of one of Markey township's prominent citizens, in the person of J. Alfred Bortz, who passed away at his home Tuesday evening. He had been in poor health for more than a year and on several occasions had spent much time at the Grayling hospital, returning from there last week.

Mr. Bortz was 62 years of age, being born at Toledo, O., Feb. 17, 1873. He attended the public schools at Toledo, later graduating as an engineer and for a long time was employed in that capacity at the city hall. In April, 1898, he was united in marriage to Miss Alice Tracy of Roscommon. They resided in Toledo until 1919, when they came to Markey township, where he has conducted a small resort business catering to fishermen and engaged in the building of boats. In public life he represented his township on the Board of Supervisors for a couple of terms and held other township and school offices. He had a pleasing personality, was a kind and loyal friend, and well liked by all who knew him. He is survived by his wife, a life long resident of this county. The funeral was held from the Congregational church Friday afternoon at two o'clock, with burial in Higgins cemetery. —Roscommon Herald-News.

Senior School Play
Very Enjoyable

"A Tale of Two Sillies," the Senior Class play, was presented to a well-entertained audience at the High School auditorium last Wednesday night, and unfolded a very pleasant yarn across the footlights as the amateur actors spoke their lines.

The plot concerns a couple of dominant mothers who decide to arrange a match for their children. Clever dialogue carries the narrative as the situation develops. Into the general bias comes difficulty. In the first place Hector and Gloria aren't so enthused about getting married, and decide to see what they can do to crawl out of a bad situation. Their hen-pecked fathers, just back from their first vacations in twenty years, give them moral, but not very tangible, support. Better aid comes with the entrance of Helen and Jules Reach, chorus girl and sailor. The ever-so-happily engaged couple decide to make themselves undesirable to the ambitious mothers, with the wedding plans going forward steadily meanwhile. Hector decides to get cave-mannish with Helen, and Gloria discovers the charm of the naval hero. Hector's plans not going so well he has to become an "accessory after the fact" in connection with "Lazy" Jackson's chicken stealing. "Lazy" thought he was crazy, but two prospective mothers-in-law get thoroughly shocked. About the time that they decide to call off the whole thing their children decide to elope, and all's well that ends well.

Ten Seniors took part in the production. Josephine Robarge and Eva Mae Bugby were the dominating mothers who tried to do the thinking for other people and found it too big a job. Hector, dominated son, proved to be a starring role for Alex Kochanowski who carried the part to perfection. Gloria, the dominated daughter, was really Beverly Schaible, who carried a long and difficult part smoothly and charmingly. Sam Gust, the very swash-buckling hero of strange adventures and Don Juan of many ports, together with Jean Peterson, the actually respectable and petite chorus girl, played the son and daughter of the house of Reach. They did a convincing job of it. Harvey Reagan and Donald Charon, as the grey headed fathers whose thoughts often ran counter to the wishes of their wives, were convincing character parts. The well-chosen caste was rounded out by Charles Corwin as "Lazy" Jackson, the man who was too interested in other people's poultry, and Roger Kneff as Sheriff Hunt who hunts 'em down and has a way with the handcuffs.

The Seniors put on a nice play, well done in every respect. They can afford to be proud of their efforts. The direction of Miss Berry was a majority factor in the success of "The Tale of Two Sillies," and full credit should be given her efforts.

Between the second and third acts Betty Sparkes tap-danced "The Sidewalks of New York" with Miss McNeven at the piano. It was a pleasing number to round out a good two hours entertainment.

Chester Burke To Take Farm Census

The appointment of Chester Burke of Frederic as enumerator for the Federal Agriculture Census was announced here today by Robert N. Long of Saginaw, district supervisor. Mr. Burke has been assigned to the entire county and it is expected that within the next month that he will call upon every farm operator, obtaining information relative to 1934 crops and to the livestock owned by the operator as of January 1st, 1935.

"This census," Mr. Long pointed out, "should in no way be confused with any other census being taken in Crawford county. The agriculture census is not an emergency measure but is the regular census that has been taken every five years since 1840. The information obtained through this census is used by the federal government in planning activities upon the behalf of the people of the rural communities of the United States."

"The information is strictly confidential and will not be disclosed to any other governmental agency or to any tax official. Only the totals are divulged by the Department of Commerce and it is impossible for any individual to obtain any figures regarding the operation of any one farm."

"In the 20 counties in the 8th and 10th Congressional Districts, which comprise the Third Michigan District, there are over 135 enumerators and the co-operation that we have received from the farmers has been gratifying," Mr. Long concluded.

PROVES PERFORMANCE AND RUGGEDNESS IN

STOCK MODEL SEDAN

Again Hudson gives you proof of power, performance, ruggedness—instead of claims.

Speed—nearly a mile and a half a minute! Acceleration—and lightning fast shifting with the Electric Hand—a mile at 68.18 m.p.h. from a standing start! Ruggedness—a record in second gear at more than 70 m.p.h.—"most savage punishment I ever gave a car," said the driver.

Remember, a stock Hudson sedan set these records—a car picked at random from a dealer's showroom by A.A.A. officials. Come in and see its duplicate. And, by all means, drive it before you decide on any car.

THE ELECTRIC HAND . . . Easier, safer driving . . . faster, smoother shifting, with both hands always on the wheel. An exclusive feature, standard on Hudson Custom Eight; optional (for small amount extra) on all other 1935 Hudsons.

THE NEW RELIEF SYSTEM

A new relief roll system adopted by the local emergency relief administration in January in a move to stimulate independence of dependents is being carried on. Every case which had been on the rolls for a year or more was closed in January and a new roll formed. However in the check-up there was but one party who did not re-apply for assistance.

This was a state order and back of it was the desire to keep a closer check on the status of cases and to stimulate welfare dependents toward stronger endeavors at securing employment. An affidavit when dependents swore that they had no resources whatever nor received no help from relatives.

COLORFUL DISHES

THIS is the time of the year when entertaining is done for the young folks, when colorful and interesting dishes are more appreciated.

Chrysanthemum Salad.

Take bright thin-skinned oranges, wash, cut the skins from the blossom end to the stem end, but not quite through, leaving a small portion to hold the petals in shape. Cut into points to resemble a flower. Carefully remove the pulp, not to break the flower. Cut the pulp into small pieces, draining off the juices to add to the dressing. To eight oranges take one apple finely diced, two tablespoonsful of lemon juice poured over it to keep it from discoloring, add two tablespoonsful of sugar, one-half cupful of diced celery and one-half cupful of broken nuts. Arrange the cups on lettuce, fill with the salad mixture, adding mayonnaise and seasoning to taste, using the orange juice instead of cream to add to the mayonnaise.

Cranberry Orange Salad.

Prepare molds of cranberry sauce. Arrange in the center a nest of lettuce and place thin slices of orange around the mold. Top the cranberry with a rose of mayonnaise and place a candied cranberry on each slice of orange.

Roast Turkey.

Cut strips of fat salt pork and cover the breast of a firm, plump turkey or other fowl. After stuffing place in a roaster and brown. During the baking baste every fifteen minutes with orange juice and lemon juice. Add two teaspoonfuls of lemon juice to a cupful of orange juice while basting. Use the liquid in the pan also for basting. The fruit juice enhances the flavor, making it more tender.

Prepare and bake a plain sponge cake in a square tin. When cool cut into rounds with a cookie cutter and cover with any creamy frosting. Roll in tinted coconut. Decorate with halves of nuts, sliced dates arranged in designs or with bits of maraschino cherries or candied fruit.

Question Box By ED WYNN The Postage Paid

Dear Mr. Wynn: I live in an apartment house and there is a rumor about a married couple in the same building. The rumor is that the husband beats his wife up every morning. Do you believe this?

Yours truly,

I. WONDER.

Answer: I know the people you refer to and it is a fact that the husband beats his wife up every morning. He gets up at 6:00 a. m. and she doesn't get up till 7:00.

Dear Mr. Wynn:

I am a scientist. At present I am experimenting with "flies." I am trying to solve the big problem of the century; that is: "Should Flies Marry?"

This is my sixth year on the subject, and my greatest difficulty is to keep the flies over the winter months. Last winter I put a fly in a cuckoo clock to rest, but it woke the fly up every hour and the poor thing died from the lack of sleep.

Can you tell me the best place to keep a fly so it can rest peacefully?

Yours truly,

WILL U. HELPER.

Answer: Nothing in the world, excepting the discovery of the North pole, will be of greater benefit to humanity than the solution of the problem, "Should Flies Marry?" I find that the importance of flies is a subject to think about. Some folks like flies, others don't. I know one man who owns a candy store and he likes flies so much that he has just engaged a blacksmith for his store. This blacksmith is supposed to "shoo the flies." On the other hand, I hear, every day, of a man named Babe Ruth who doesn't like flies. At least, it appears so, as he keeps hitting flies over the fence. Now I would like very much to help you, so after years of research work I find the best place to keep a fly, if you do not want it disturbed at all, is in a Scotchman's pocketbook.

Dear Mr. Wynn:

I am a girl nineteen years of age. There is a young man who seems to be madly in love with me, but I am not sure I love him; he has proposed to me. He swears that if I marry him he will treat me like an "angel." What shall I do?

Yours truly,

I. M. KICKIDE.

Answer: Always beware of the man who calls you an "angel," or the man who says he will treat you like an "angel." Go to any art gallery and look at a painting of an "angel." You will immediately see all the clothes he intends buying you.

Heavy Fighting Reported as Greek Government Seeks to Put Down Insurrection—Senator Robinson Scores Huey Long in Heated Senate Session.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

© Western Newspaper Union.

THE Greek government is making a grim effort to stamp out the fast growing revolt which started in Crete and has spread to the mainland. Greek government planes bombed the home in Crete of former Premier Eleutherios Venizelos, and also struck at five naval vessels manned by rebels standing off the shore of Crete. Venizelos is openly heading the forces of sedition, and, reports say, has seized $1,000,000 from the Canea treasury to finance the revolt.

The rebellion has been plotted for a whole year, and broke when 20 naval officers, both active and retired, seized the Salamis arsenal. As the revolt spread, rebels boarded the five warships while the crews were ignorant of the plan, and put under steam. Government planes were dispatched to the scene and pursued the rebel ships down the Aegean sea. The cruiser Averoff was struck by an aerial bomb while the vessel lay in Souda bay, near Crete, and the two other ships were reported to have been overtaken and bombed near the island of Cythera with undetermined damage.

Martial law prevailed throughout the country; rail, telephone and telegraphic communications have been cut off and normal activities suspended.

Heavy fighting with serious losses on both sides have been reported in the Struma valley, and in the Macedonian city of Kavalla. Fear has been expressed that the country will be plunged into a factional civil war of unestimated proportions. The government has offered amnesty to the rebel troops if they capitulate peacefully.

Saloniki harbor has been heavily mined in preparation for an attack by the rebel fleet, and land batteries have been reinforced by heavy caliber naval guns. Eight additional classes have been called to the colors as wounded troops pour into Saloniki from the battlefield. The government claims 100,000 loyal troops, 60 airplanes and a quantity of heavy motorized artillery are ready, although good part of this equipment is said to be old and defective.

A report from Alexandria claims that Venizelos has abandoned Crete and fled toward Egypt.

MINUTIVE King Prajadhipok of Siam has renounced his throne, relinquished his claims to being known as "brother of the moon" and possessor of 24 umbrellas, assuming the simpler, if still unpronounceable name of Prince Sukhodaya, and retired to the simple life of an English country gentleman. By his action, the ex-monarch set a record, for it is probably the first time in history that a ruler has abandoned power because his government rejected his demands for greater freedom and democratic control for his people. "My intention that the people should have a real voice in the policy of the government has been ineffective," the ex-king wrote in his message of abdication. "Since I realize that now there is no longer any way of my assisting or protecting the people in the future, I hereby renounce all rights which I had as king or rights of succession, but I reserve the rights which I formerly enjoyed before accession to the throne."

Prince Ananda, nephew of Prajadhipok, has accepted the throne, reports state. The prince, now eleven years old, is attending school in Lausanne.

OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES, jurist, scholar, soldier and gentleman, is dead. Two days before his ninety-fourth birthday, the beloved "great dissembler" succumbed to the ravages of pneumonia. The next day in the somber Supreme court chamber, the court led by Chief Justice Hughes paid tribute to the man whose career, he said, had been one of "unique distinction." Justice Hughes' voice choked as he spoke. "The grind of legislation and the disputes of the day were forgotten in congress as both the house and senate paused while glowing words were said in memory of the retired justice. Funeral services were held in Washington, attended by the President and Mrs. Roosevelt, and members of the Supreme court. After the ceremony, Holmes was given military burial in Arlington National cemetery, an honored one who had served his nation so gallantly. Justice Holmes was born in Boston, the son of the noted American poet of the same name. He entered Harvard and was in his senior year when the Civil war began. He enlisted as a lieutenant, was promoted to a captain and retired with the rank of colonel. He was wounded three times. After the war he returned to school and obtained his law degree. In 1882, Holmes was elevated to the Supreme court of Massachusetts, and in 1902, President Roosevelt appointed him to the United States Supreme court. On October 4, 1923, when he was eighty-seven years old, he became the oldest man ever to sit on the bench of the Supreme court. He retired in January, 1932.

SENATE administration leaders have decided to virtually abolish NRA when it expires in June, and set up in its place a plan of self-government in business, eliminating present coercive measures, and giving over administrative functions of the new program to the federal trade commission. Thus would end one of the administration's most spectacular and far-reaching experiments. In its general form, the plan calls for permission to join in voluntary codes regulating trade practices and eliminating unfair competition. Price fixing will be outlawed. Business and industry will agree to minimum wages and maximum hours, and only when these standards are violated, can the government apply compulsory codes.

At the same time United States District Judge W. G. Borah, in New Orleans, denied a government petition to compel a box manufacturer to comply with the maximum hour and minimum wage provisions of the lumber code, ruling that the national industrial recovery act is unconstitutional. The ruling is expected to bring before the United States Supreme court the constitutionality of the interstate commerce clause of the lumber code.

THAT "ancient repository of dignity," the senate, has been treated to an exhibition of personalities, vituperation, barely avoided fist encounters, and general uproar centering about Senator Long that should set a record for even that august body. Goaded into action by the almost daily tirades of Louisiana's Kingfish, majority leader Joe Robinson of Arkansas arose, white with rage, and let loose a castigation designed to blast the irrepressible Long into submission. Robinson appealed to the senate to assert itself and put Long, whom he called "a madman," in his place. Vice President Garner and more than a dozen senators shook hands with Robinson when he closed, and galleries applauded until the chair threatened to clear them. It had no perceptible effect on Long other than to cause him to rush back to the senate chamber, and renew his attack on Robinson.

The next day Huey precipitated another verbal free-for-all when he resumed his one-man campaign against Postmaster Farley and the New Deal in general. Long charged that Farley was instrumental in quashing an indictment against a bank in which Norman Davis, "ambassador at large," was interested. For his trouble Kingfish received a liberal supply of ridicule. He also sent to the senate post office committee a letter in which the accusation was made that Farley is "profiting" from 25 business concerns in New York city, involving violation of four criminal statutes. When questioned, Farley said he had no statement to make.

CHANCELLOR HITLER was not pleased with announcement that Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, would visit him to discuss the proposed Anglo-British pact. He sent word that he had a "cold" and could not see Sir John. Officials in London decided Hitler's cold, and attribute it to the fact that Hitler is determined to say when the visit will be acceptable. High sources in Germany have indicated that Hitler will not welcome Sir John unless Britain recognizes Germany's equality.

ITALIAN government officials state that nearly 1,000 aviators and several squadrons of planes have sailed for East Africa, and that a second wave of troops has been started to join the 20,000 already massed in Somaliland. General Graziani has been named governor of Somaliland and commander of the troops.

MONEY markets of the world reacted violently after President Roosevelt declared his administration would seek further jacking up of commodity prices. Stocks rallied in New York, government bonds sagged, and the falling British pound rose four cents. The President hurriedly issued another statement explaining that his advocacy of higher prices did not mean further devaluation of the dollar, at least not for the present. The first statement was made by the President at a press conference when he was asked if he believed prices had now risen sufficiently to warrant stabilization. He replied that they had not; that they were still too low in relation to debts.

KOKI HIROTA, Japanese foreign minister, sees in the dispute over settlement of Japanese farmers in Arizona, a spark which may ignite flames of discontent and cause regrettable consequences between Japan and the United States, he told the lower house of the Japanese diet. He expressed extreme regret that American authorities had not been able to settle the matter, and said he was pressing for an early solution. Exclusion of the Japanese has been asked under the alien land ownership law, and it is probable that no fundamental solution can be arrived at until the exclusion clause of the immigration act, which has been hanging fire since 1924, has been settled.

DONALD RICHBERG, executive director of the National Emergency council, and one of the closest advisers of the President, "guaranteed" that there would be no monetary inflation as long as Franklin D. Roosevelt is President. His statement came in answer to a questioner at a lecture in Boston.

"If we are to assume that that President Roosevelt will be President for the next six years, I can tell you this: I can guarantee there will be no inflation while Franklin D. Roosevelt is President," Richberg said.

He dodged further discussion of the subject, and refused to comment as to what was being done by the government internationally and nationally on monetary policies. However, Richberg did touch on the Townsend plan for payment of $200 monthly to all persons over sixty. He said:

"If everybody over sixty is to get $200 a month, you can be certain it is going to come out of the pockets of everybody between eighteen and sixty."

"When those under sixty have arrived at the selfish attitude where they are ready to dig to pay everybody over sixty the $200 a month, there will have been a tremendous spread of real Christianity. But the government can't get the money out of thin air."

THERE seems to be no doubt about the "pink slip" clause in the income tax law being repealed. Overwhelming sentiment for its abolition has been expressed in both houses of congress, and the house ways and means committee has already approved the resolution offered by Chairman Doughton. Polls taken disclose a heavy majority in the senate favor repeal, and both Democratic and Republican house leaders are pledged to lend their strength to prompt passage of the measure. Congressional decision on the "pink slips" must be registered before March 15, the date for filing tax returns, if it is to serve its intended purpose.

S. CLAY WILLIAMS, head of the NRA, tendered his resignation to the President, stating what is expected to be a wholesale housecleaning of the recovery administration's high command. Chairman Williams explained his action by saying that he had to return to his job as head of one of the country's largest tobacco companies. Three of the four remaining members of the board, Arthur D. Whiteside, Walton Hamilton, and Sidney Hillman, are known to have their resignations ready. Rumors say that the President will not fill the vacancies, but will return the NRA to a one-man command.

BY a vote of 23 to 1 the house approved the Vinson bonus bill, and gave the rival Patman bill a possible edge. The committee instructed Chairman Doughton to ask a wide open rule permitting inflationists to move the Patman measure as a substitute on the floor. Patman supporters claim the house will pass the first bonus bill brought up, but conservatives are working to jockey the "printing press money" measure out of preferred position. The Vinson bill is favored by the American Legion.

FACING its third "revolutionary general strike" in fourteen months, President Carlos Mendota's government turned the situation over to Fulgencio Batista, army commander in chief, who will try to bring some order out of the Cuban chaos. Nearly all government employees have joined the general strike, as have those working in the Havana municipal government.

REDDY FOX QUARRELS FOOLISHLY

AS REDDY FOX sat glaring up at Terror the Goshawk, whose arrival from the Far North had spoiled Reddy's hunting in the Green Forest, he grew angrier and angrier. He grew so angry that presently he walked over until he was almost under Terror the Goshawk. "What right have you down here in the Green Forest?" he snarled.

"The same right you have, Reddy Fox," retorted Terror.

"It's no such thing," snapped Reddy. "You haven't the same right here I have. You belong up in the sky."

"You're a great, big bully and coward," snarled Reddy. "You know it is an easy matter to call people you hate bad names."

Terror merely chuckled. It was a hateful chuckle and made Reddy angrier than ever. "So I'm a coward, am I?" said Terror. "Think again, Reddy; think again. It is you who are a coward, not I. I fear nothing and no one. Just to settle the question I dare you to go up to Farmer Brown's and steal a chicken from his henhouse while he is about."

"That's a silly dare," snarled Reddy. "You are daring me to do something you don't dare do yourself. You know well enough you'll keep away from that henyard as long as Farmer Brown is about."

"Is that so?" snapped Terror, and the feathers on the top of his head began to rise in anger. "I never dare anybody to do what I don't dare do myself."

"Huh!" retorted Reddy Fox. "Talk is cheap." He said this with an unpleasant sneer.

Terror's fierce eyes blazed with rage. "I never boast," he declared. "I dare you to go to Farmer Brown's henyard right now and prove who is the coward."

Reddy Fox couldn't very well back out. He tried to think of an excuse, but for the life of him he couldn't. "All right," said he, "I'll take your dare."

Far North, while I live here all year round. Why don't you stay where you belong?"

"Since when have you owned the Green Forest?" replied Terror. "I would have you know, Reddy Fox, that I go where I please. I have found very good hunting here these last few days, and I think I shall stay the rest of the winter. What are you going to do about it?"

That question was too much for Reddy Fox. If Terror had been a four-legged person like himself there might have been ways to make things most uncomfortable for him. As it was, there wasn't a single thing Reddy could do, and he knew it.

"You're a great, big bully and coward," snarled Reddy. "You know it is an easy matter to call people you hate bad names."

Terror merely chuckled. It was a hateful chuckle and made Reddy angrier than ever. "So I'm a coward, am I?" said Terror. "Think again, Reddy; think again. It is you who are a coward, not I. I fear nothing and no one. Just to settle the question I dare you to go up to Farmer Brown's and steal a chicken from his henhouse while he is about."

Reddy Fox couldn't very well back out. He tried to think of an excuse, but for the life of him he couldn't. "All right," said he, "I'll take your dare."

(By Arthur Glidden, County Agricultural Agent)

Several farmers have inquired about their individual allotment of potatoes according to the proposed Warren Potato Act. It is still too early to make any statements relative to the growers' allotment, but the following questions which have been asked may give the grower some idea of what to expect if the Warren Potato Act is passed. The answers of these questions are taken from a copy of the bill as introduced in Congress on February 21. I am not guaranteeing a single one of the answers to be correct, as they are my interpretations of the provisions of the bill; someone else may think that the answers should be different.

Q: How is the base allotment for Michigan to be determined?

A: The allotment for Michigan will be determined by multiplying the annual average acreage for the three highest years between 1927 and 1933, inclusive, by the average yield for the three highest years for the same period. Accordingly the acreages of 1927, 1928 and 1933 will be used to determine the average yield per acre. The base for Michigan will be 28,920,180 bushels according to this method.

Q: Are the years used to determine the growers' base the same for the state?

A: No. Two or more years between 1929 and 1933, inclusive, will be used.

Q: Can each grower choose the two years he wishes for fixing his allotment?

A: Probably not. The years which will work to the best advantage for Michigan or a part of the state will be determined and all growers within the specified area will use the same base years.

Q: Will the allotments be made on the basis of acres harvested during the base years?

A: No. The basis for the growers' allotment will be the number of bushels produced and sold by the grower.

Q: How will the allotment be established for a farmer who has operated the same farm during the base years and will again operate it in 1935?

A: His allotment will be a certain percentage of the annual average sales of potatoes which were produced on the farm during the designated base period.

Q: How will the allotment be determined for the tenant who has rented several farms during the past few years and may even be on a different farm in 1935?

A: The allotment for the tenant will be determined by the number of bushels which have been produced and sold during the base years from the farm he is operating in 1935.

Q: If the farm the tenant is operating in 1935 has grown few or no potatoes during the base years, does the tenant have to use the base established by that farm?

A: Not in every case. If the tenant has been a potato producer the act has provisions which will give him a fair allotment, such allotment to be determined by the annual average number of bushels produced and sold by the tenant during the base years.

Q: Will the answer to the two preceding questions also apply to a man who has bought a new farm?

A: Yes. Q: Will it be possible for individuals who wish to start potato growing for the first time to get an allotment?

A: Yes, but care must be used in giving allotments to people who have never grown potatoes. The allotment to new growers is limited by the act and the regulations governing this allotment have not been made at this time.

Q: Will the Warren Potato Act, if adopted, keep farm boys from starting in farming for themselves?

A: Probably one of the principal reasons for making provisions for new growers was to give young farmers a chance. A definite answer to this question cannot be made until the regulations determining the allotments to new growers have been made.

Q: At what time of the year will the allotments be made to the growers?

A: Obviously, the plan will work out best if the allotment is made before planting time. The Act states that the allotments will be

HOW TO SERVE OYSTERS

HERE are some old ways of serving oysters that may never have been brought to the attention of the present generation: Fried Oysters.

Prepare 50 oysters, pour water over them in a sieve and look over carefully for any broken shell. Save the liquid and add to it enough milk to make one pint. Put two teaspoons of butter and two of flour into a sauce pan, and the oyster liquor and milk and stir until smooth and thick, adding one teaspoon of salt, a few dashes of pepper. The above, with the oysters added, will be creamed oysters. For the fritter add the yolks of two eggs lightly beaten and a teaspoon of finely minced parsley. Serve on squares of buttered toast.

Oysters Fried in Oil.

Drain 25 fat oysters. Lift each carefully by the muscular, hard part, place on a board and dry well with a soft cloth. Dust with salt and cayenne. Beat two eggs without separating and add to them two tablespoons of hot water. Put on a board a quart of dry bread crumbs—do not use cracker crumbs. Dip the oysters into the crumbs, then into the egg and again into the crumbs. Use the fingers as sticking a fork into the oyster spoils the flavor. After all are covered arrange them, without touching, on a board. Have the fat hot, using any kind of sweet fat; place the oysters in a wire basket and fry six at a time, until brown. They should be brown in two minutes. Overcooking will toughen the oyster. Drain carefully, standing on brown paper. Keep hot and serve garnished with parsley and lemon.

Q: To whom will potato producers apply for their allotment?

A: The act provides that local committees elected by the potato growers will act as agents for the Secretary of Agriculture and that the growers will apply to their local committee for their allotments.

If potato growers have any other questions that they would like to ask relative to the proposed Warren Potato Act, do not hesitate to submit them to Arthur Glidden, County Agricultural Agent. He will not promise to answer all of the questions, but will do the best he can with the information that is now available. Answers to the questions submitted will appear in the next issue of this paper.

The House Awakes!

By ANNE CAMPBELL

THIS house awakes with Dickie, whose bare feet

Come pattering across the sunny hall,

And then the other children's voices fall

Across the quiet rooms; and on our street

A dozen houses, filled with children, rise

And dust the sleep out of their drowsy eyes.

When off to school the happy children go,

The house sinks in a sleep as deep as Death,

And does not wake till the returning breath

Of children make its staring windows glow.

And down our street a dozen houses shout,

And wake to happiness when school is out!

A Few Minor Changes—

Nobody thinks it peculiar if a large part of our people buy new suits, dresses, etc., in the spring even if the old ones aren't entirely worn out. Then why have the house remain the same old house year after year until it becomes a landmark. A few minor changes will create in you a new interest in your home and help the carpenter live too.

While chickenpox is regarded as one of the minor contagious diseases, it has been known to become a serious when it occurs concurrently with other infectious conditions. It is frequently confused with smallpox which also makes it more important from a standpoint of public health.

The disease is characterized by a mild fever at the time of eruption. Small red pimples make their appearance over the forehead and body. These soon become vesicles and if infected form pus. The entire eruption usually is "all out" in three days. If the lesions become infected they frequently leave disfiguring scars. For this reason it is important that children be kept from scratching the eruptions, especially that which occurs on the face.

The incubation period is usually in the neighborhood of 17 days from the time of exposure. The regulations of the Michigan Department of Health require that all cases be reported, that the house be placarded with a warning sign and children of the same household who have not had the disease be excluded from school and isolated from the 12th to the 21st day following exposure. Those children of the family who have unquestionably had the disease may go to school as usual. The patient may be released from isolation when the skin is unbroken and the scabs have disappeared.

The health department solicits the cooperation of all parents and citizens in the reporting of any cases or suspected cases of chickenpox so that measures can be taken to stamp out the disease as soon as possible.

THE PRETTIEST GIRL IN THE WORLD

FROM the Balkans comes news of a peasant girl who banged herself because she was not the prettiest girl in the world.

Her name was Angelija Nukitch, and she lived near the village of Rastnik, Croatia. She was regarded as the most beautiful girl in her district, and some one told her she was the prettiest girl in the world.

It seems then that a neighbor returned from a journey and told Angelija that in so nearby a place as Zagreb, the capital of Croatia, there were prettier girls than she. So Angelija went to the barn and hanged herself, writing in a note that she did not want to live in a world that contained prettier girls.

Incredible, did you say, that any one should be unwilling to live just because she could not be the prettiest girl in the world? Not at all. People are always wanting to die for some reason that seems perfectly absurd to the rest of us. After all, death might be considered preferable to living in misery. And don't the majority of us live in misery—or its equivalent in perfunctory terms—because of something we want with an intensity that would seem to most people, if they knew it, absolutely incomprehensible?

It's that wanting so hard that is the trouble. It is like living your life attached to an opera glass—seeing only one thing, many times ungratified, to the exclusion of everything else. It distorts values and throws everything out of balance. A thing that need really have no important bearing on our leading useful, happy lives becomes like a malignant growth on the healthy tissue of life—whether it is something you are sure is important or just some silly thing that some one else wants, like being the prettiest girl in the world.
